CHILD DROWNED.—A little daughter of Mr. George Kline, who lives about four miles up the river, on Mr. John Atkinson's place, was drowned opposite the Sisters Monday evening while bathing.

POLICE COURT.—There was only one case examined by Judge Cramer yesterday morning. This was a charge of disorderly conduct against Robert Gray, continued from Monday morning. Gray was fined $3 and costs.

A MASSIVE celebration is to be held at Wellsville, Ohio, on St. John's Day, June 24th. About two hundred delegates from Wheeling will attend. Delegations will also be present from Pittsburgh, Allegheny and Steubenville.

MANOUEING.—On Wednesday night last week the house of Mrs. Hervey, one mile east of Elm Grove, was broken open. The parties proceeding to the cellar appropriated a considerable quantity of canned fruit and other supplies, eating what they wanted and carrying away what they could. They were both heard and seen by the family, who just at the time were unprovided with any effective weapons, and therefore forebore making any demonstrations against them. After the departure of the robbers the cellar was found to have been thoroughly ransacked. A large quantity of half-burned matches were found strewn in every direction, and it is probably owing to the dampness of the floor that the house was not set on fire. Mrs. Hervey thinks the parties were the same who stole the horses of Mr. Whitman, which were found in the neighborhood on Thursday. They seemed to be a party of freebooters, lying by, perhaps, in daytime, or reconnoitering the premises of farmers, and at night helping themselves to free lunches and free rides. It is not unlikely that it may have been the same gang of marauders who, passing over into Ohio, burned the residence of Mr. Wright, in Belmont, by the same indiscriminate scattering of match sticks through the pantry.

PERSONAL.—Mrs. Henry S. Walker, of Charleston, is stopping at the McLeure House. Also Rev. P. Laricks, of Mt. Pleasant; Judge Samuel, of Cabell, co.; and the Toney Pastor troupe, comprising twenty-five members.

Hon. G. D. Camden, of Clarksburg, is at the St. James Hotel.

Gov. John J. Jacob was at the McLeure House yesterday.

Dr. Baird has gone to Romney, to attend a meeting of the Board of Regents of the Asylum for the deaf, dumb and blind.

Manager Hamilton, of the Opera House, and B. A. Galligan, Esq., who have been in Pittsburgh for several days, will return to the city to-day.

NOT SERIOUSLY INJURED.—Yesterday morning James McGannon, a butcher, residing on the corner of Jacob and 17th street, went out on the Hempfield railroad for the purpose of buying cattle.

When near West Alexander he was thrown from a buggy and sustained severe injuries. Mrs. McGannon received a dispatch stating that her husband had been probably fatally injured, and that he would be sent home on the evening train. With several sympathizing friends she repaired to the depot, and was most agreeably surprised to meet him coming home on a horse. He was severely bruised by the accident, but his injuries are not of a serious nature.

GOOD NEWS.—A dispatch received yesterday brought the joyful news to the large Sabbath School of the Eng. Luth. Church, that a special train would be provided for the great excursion to-morrow, leaving Bridgeport at 7 A. M. This will add largely to the comfort and number of the excursionists. The arrangements are being made on a scale commensurate with the magnitude of this School, and will give the greatest satisfaction. The grove is one of great beauty and the trip such as will refresh all who take part in it. The general orders will be found in another column.

STRAWBERRY FESTIVAL.—A strawberry festival will be held in the Zane street M. E. Church to-night, the proceeds for the benefit of the church. The price of admission is low, and all the luxuries of the season will be served in the best of style. As the strawberry season is nearly over, the public should not fail to indulge in the delicious fruit at the Zane Street Church to-night.

COUNTY COURT.—This court met at 9 o'clock yesterday morning.

In the case of Hazlett & Ford vs. R. S. Brown, Administrator of W. H. Kelly, deceased, a judgment was given plaintiffs for $70.

About noon the court adjourned until 9 A. M. to-day.

PITTSBURGH RACES.—Among the horses entered at the Pittsburgh Driving Park Races, which commence to-day, are the following: S. Waddle, Martin's Ferry, Ohio, b. g. Wild Tom; O. D. Tipson, Cadiz, Ohio, b. s. Histoga Chief; Wm. Miller, Youngstown, Ohio, b. g. Rattler.

SLIGHT SMASHUP.—Yesterday morning engine No. 180 and three cars were backing up the bank track, near the new B. & O. depot, when the cars ran into a post at the end of the track, throwing them off and slightly damaging them. The accident was the result of a grade in the track.

FELL IN A PRIVY VAULT.—Yesterday morning a little daughter of Mrs. Farley, in South Wheeling, fell into an open privy vault. She clutched a projecting board as she fell, and was found hanging therefrom badly frightened, but unharmed. After being pulled out the child fainted from exhaustion.

OPEN AIR CONCERT POSTPONED.—The grand open air concert of the Wiesel Musical Institute has been postponed until Tuesday next. Those who desire to attend should secure their tickets, as the occasion will be one of more than ordinary interest.

HORSES AND BUGGY STOLEN.—Two horses and a buggy, belonging to A. C. Morrow, of Washington, Pa., have been missing since Saturday. A man giving his name as William Ferry engaged the team on that day and has not been heard of since.

MANY people living on Chapline street, Centre Wheeling, would be glad to know by what authority that thoroughfare has been transformed into a race course. Every evening the road is covered with fast and fancy teams, to the imminent danger of women and children.

PROPERTY SOLD.—D. C. List, Esq., Executor of the Cummins estate yesterday sold to August Weidenschu the property on Market street occupied by the Register printing office and an adjoining building. The price paid was $18,000.

COLLEGE CONCERT.—The concert of the Female College will take place in the Opera House on Wednesday evening next. Prof. Roe will conduct the exercises, and we doubt not that the performance will be a very creditable one.

RAIN.—A most refreshing shower came down yesterday, cooling the atmosphere and disposing of the dust in a summary manner. The value of this rain to the community cannot be realized. But we shall look for some warm weather now.

BELLARE.—The other day a certain young man in this city, who has for some time been endeavoring to persuade one of our engineers on the B. & O. Railroad to take himself and two young ladies on a pleasure trip to the Virginia sea, prevailed at last, and at the appointed time certain young man and his fair companions boarded the engine, en route for Benwood. Arriving at their destination, they alighted from the engine and repaired to the eating saloon to regale themselves on lemonade and other delicacies, thinking to be ready to go back by the same route and conveyance. But in this anxiety to satisfy their inward desires they forgot that "time and tide waits for no man." When at length they were ready to return they stepped to the door, but no engine was to be seen. "How is this?" our young friend remarked; "I hope we are not left. I must see about this," and he accordingly set out to look for the friendly engine, but no engine was to be seen. "Left, by jove! Curse the luck, if it wasn't so hot I wouldn't care; but as we are in for it we may as well be resigned to our fate." "How far is it?" exclaimed the girls in a breath. "Oh, only about a mile and a half." "Goodness gracious, Oh, dear," says another, "we shall faint, I know we shall." These and numerous other lamentations greeted the ear of our hero. But determined to meet his doom in the coolest manner possible, he set out with his fair consort en route for the first ferry in a style which would have done credit to Weston, the renowned pedestrian. When they reached the ferry our fair friends presented the appearance of a wilted sunflower, while he reminded us of the last rose of summer. "Well," replied he, "there is one consolation, this little trip has only cost me the trifling sum of $3.50, which is nothing when you get used to it." Wm. Jones was arrested and brought before the Mayor on a charge of profanity and disorderly conduct, and fined $3 and costs. Joseph Warner, on the same charge, $3 and costs.

Peter Hansly, for leaving his cart stand in the street, $1 and costs. Patrick Curran, same charge, $1 and costs.

The select official party, which has heretofore been meeting at D. K. Sanford's parlors on Tuesday night, will hereafter meet on Thursday night of each week.

Mr. John Criswell, and also the firm of Laferty & Turnbull, are each doing quite an extensive business in the manufacture of building bricks at their yards in South Bellare.

A young man down on Water street met with a singular and painful accident last evening. Whilst attiring himself to attend an evening party, his diamond pin accidentally fell on his left foot, smashing it so badly that he will not be able to leave the house before, and in all probability, not until after the Fourth of July.

Everybody was on tip-toe with excitement yesterday, when the heavens began to grow black with clouds and gave indications of a coming shower, but the promised shower proved to be a very light one, but nevertheless a vast amount of good.

Those who wish to see something really beautiful should pay a visit to the young men's prayer meeting, who occupy the south class room of the M. E. Church, which, by the joint contributions of Dr. Gratton's class and the young men, has been newly carpeted, papered, painted and furnished. Young men's prayer meeting every Saturday night at 7 o'clock. All young men are cordially invited to attend.

That man's shoes at the Bellare Nail Works seem to be an article of great utility. He says he will reserve one for the special accommodation of the public, and it will be let to responsible parties for picnics and excursions on reasonable terms, while the other he must keep for a cradle.

A FLAGRANT OUTRAGE.—By request of Mr. J. C. Kellogg, of New York City, we publish the following communication, which will explain itself. Mr. Kellogg is connected with Messrs. E. Godfrey & Sons, leather dealers, of New York. We make no comments:

W. C. Kellogg, Gen. Supt. B. & O. Railroad, Cincinnati:

DEAR SIR.—On the 16th inst., I was a passenger on the train leaving Zanesville at 6:15 A. M. I gave Conductor Rufus Lane the legal fare to Bellare, $3.35, which he accepted, and then commenced insulting me by repeatedly calling me a "puppy" and using obscene language. He declared his intention to annoy and insult me all the way to Bellare, but he ceased, however, on reaching Cambridge—though I desired him to report him. I, in common with other passengers, came to the conclusion that he was upheld in such conduct by the Railroad Company. If such is the case, will you please inform the public that they may know from what source it emanates. Awaiting your reply, I remain, Very truly yours,

J. L. KELLOGG.

SUDDEN DEATH.—Wm. Taylor, a workman employed at the Baltimore & Ohio machine shops, died very suddenly about 9 o'clock yesterday morning. Mr. Taylor had charge of the oil department of the shops, and had worked as usual for several hours, when he complained of being unwell. He started home about half past eight o'clock, but had not proceeded more than twenty-five or thirty yards when he was attacked with hemorrhage of the lungs. He staggered into a house near by, and falling to the floor died in a few moments. The deceased was about fifty years of age, and leaves a wife and several children. He resided on 25th street.

SILK DRESS STOLEN.—Several days ago a little girl went to the house of S. B. Mellor on South Broadway, Island, and took therefrom a valuable silk dress. Mr. Mellor has no clue to the thief, as the girl was not known, and has not been seen since.

'SQUIRE KAMMER.—Upon complaint of Ferdinand Weister, Sophia Costar was taken before 'Squire Kammer, charged with seizing plaintiff's hat while he was passing along Main street. Sophia was discharged from custody upon returning the hat and paying the costs of the case.

'SQUIRE PHILLIPS.—Upon complaint of Mary P. Johnson, David Bivens was arrested at a late hour Monday night, taken before 'Squire Phillips, charged with disturbing the peace. Failing to give surety in $300 to keep the peace for one year, Bivens was committed to jail.

RAINING A DISTURBANCE.—Patrick Monaghan was before 'Squire McCormick yesterday morning, charged with disturbing the peace in the vicinity of the Female College. He paid $5 and costs.
